G. Armstrong William George Armstrong (24 June 1913 – 1 June 2005) was a Scottish sculptor. He was one of the most significant sculptors working in Britain in the second half of the 20th century. He was educated at the Glasgow School of Art where he later taught. He became a full member of the Royal Scottish Academy in 1950. Armstrong was born in Glasgow and had a boyhood interest in music and the arts. He was educated at the Glasgow School of Art, then studied at the Royal College of Art and in 1932 was awarded the Gold Medal for sculpture. He moved to the US in 1939 where he became friends with Calder, Moore, Ben Shahn and Charles Demuth. In 1944, he received the first of a series of solo exhibitions at the Galerie Jom, in Zurich, which was organised by the Swiss government in exile. He returned to Britain in 1951, becoming a member of the Royal Society of British Sculptors and exhibiting in shows at the Royal Academy. His work included: sculpture, wood carving and watercolours and he established himself as a teacher. He worked with the
