The FIFA family is the best in the business and for the first time ever FIFA 22 introduces “HyperMotion Technology,” which uses motion capture data collected from 22 real-life players playing a complete, high-intensity football match in motion capture suits. The data collected from player movements, tackles, aerial duels and on-ball actions is used to power FIFA 22 gameplay. For the first time ever, VR support is available in FIFA Ultimate Team, which will enable dedicated and full-body VR support, as well as 360° aiming modes in all game modes. A new “Weather” mode will also be available in FIFA Ultimate Team, which will challenge players to compete in exclusive weather conditions. This will include urban and jungle weather environments. FIFA 22 also features an expanded “Direct Control” system that allows players to experience the controls of the ball and player fluidly on the pitch, powered by the updated Player Impact Engine. The game is expected to hit store shelves early next year on PlayStation 4, Xbox One, PC, Switch, Nintendo Switch, Xbox One X, Nintendo Switch X, and PlayStation 4 Pro. Check out the game
